Newspaper Owner Expresses His Opinion of Col. Roosevelt and Incidentally Takes a Whack at Candidate Dix.

New York, Oct. 29.—The New York World will print tomorrow a letter from William Randolph Hearst, under date of October 28, in as follows:

part as follows:

"An editorial in your paper Wednesday refers to me as a supporter, or, rather, a co-operator with, Mr. Roosevelt. This is not in strict accordance with the facts. During my sojourn abroad this summer, your correspondent frequently interviewed me, and ent frequently interviewed me, and often asked my opinion of Mr. Roose-veit's actions, utterances and intention. "You must know perfectly well from the opinions I expressed in the interviews published in your columns that am not in any sense a supporter of "I know him to be astonishingly in-consistent, and I cannot reconcile so great a resistency with sincerity or great a resistency with sincerity or with high purpose.

"I know him to be ambitious, vain and selfish, reckless and erratle, and I do not consider these qualities compatible with a subject policy or a safe conduct of public affairs.

"The air is now full of denunciations of Mr. Roosevelt, some of it wholly deserved and some of it entirely unjust. I am not a co-operator with Mr. Roosevelt, yet I am not so prejudiced or so partisan that I would not co-operate with Mr. Roosevelt or any other man, should he be, or at any time become, engaged in some worthy and commendable undertaking.

"When, for instance, Mr. Roosevelt declared that it was his intention to drive corrupt bosses out of the Republican party in New York state, I expressed a willingness to aid him in that particular praiseworthy purpose.

"Having myself long been engaged in the attempt to drive corrupt bosses out of the Democratic party, I could not conscientiously or consistently refuse aid to any one whom I believed to be earnestly engaged in similar act.

"But Mr. Roosevelt's opposition to bosses is too personal, too limited, too restricted. In his own state, Mr. Roosevelt did no more than to depose Boss Barnes, who was his personal enemy, and install as boss of the state Republican party Manager Root, who is his personal friend.

Brookins Has Mishap.

Walter Brookins of the Wright team. who today took up the new "baby" Wright racer, met with a serious mishap. Experts had predicted that if the engine refused to explode the machine could never glide safely to a landing but would fail, and that was precisely what happened.

Brookins was just coming around the turn into the home stretch for a trial circle, preparatory to entering into the Gordon Bennett race, when four of his eight cylinders ceased firing. With only half power he tried first to sustain himself by mounting, and then decided it was wiser to land and plunged to earth. In the strict sense of the word he did not fall, he dived. And it could almost be said that he made a perfect landing, that is, the angle at which he hit the earth from a height of fifty feet was almost perfect. But driven by the wind and his engine he came hurling through the air at such tremendous speed that when he touched the earth his front wheels and forward frame collapsed under him. The machine stuck its nose in the dirt, slowly reared tail upward and finally collapsed topside undermost. Brookins was thrown from his seat in a somersault.

Painfully Injured.

When the dust cleared Brookins was Food taken into the Stomach which, from the nature of the food or the condition of the stomach, is not digested, is worse than no food at all. This is a true statement as far as it goes and a great many dyspeptics go only this far with their reasoning. They argue with themselves that because their stomachs do not do the work given them, they work in other do not do the work given them, they must be given less work; in other words, they must be starved. It would be just as sensible for a business man who is unable to do all his own work to cut down his business to his own capacity as it is for a man to starve himself to relieve his stomach. The sensible business man employs help and goes forward with his business. Likewise the sensible dyspeptic will employ help for his stomach and give his body proper nourishment.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.) New York, Oct. 29 .- Bernard F. 'Neil, millionaire, bank president, mine owner, chairman of the Republican state central committee of Idaho, bestate central committee of Idaho, became "Barney the Newsy" again tonight, and for old time's sake, he sleeps in the Newsboys' home tonight with the same kind of little fellows of whom he was one many years ago. Barney has come back to his own. For a brief season he is going to quit association with millionaires, bank presidents and big politicians long enough to get the atmosphere where once as a newsboy he was happy and free. He will mingle with the newsies for a day or two.

once as a newsboy he was happy and free. He will mingle with the newsies for a day or two.

They started tonight with a "big time" at the Newsboys' home, and as word had been passed around that "de rich guy dat uster sell papers" was going to visit the club, the crowd that assembled to give him a welcome would have done credit to a Roosevelt.

There were speeches and talks and many cheers, and before the millionaire lay down to sleep amid the street salesmen he showed visibly that he was touched to the heart by the welcome accorded him.

Barney O'Neil was a waif in the streets of New York. Early in life he lost track of his father and mother, and he began to shift for himself. He made his living selling newspapers. Later on he went west, and at the age of 19 entered the banking business in Nebraska. Then he moved to California and later to Idaho. He owns or is interested in mines, banks and newspapers all over the west. He is president of the State Bank of Commerce at Wallace, 'Idaho.

Dr. Robinson Talks.

When asked last night regarding Miss Taylor, Dr. J. H. Robinson professed ignorance of the case, but found the name, "Miss N. Smith." page 139 of the ledger, in his day book. He turned to this page. It gave the address of Miss Smith as the Bungalow hotel, where Miss Taylor lived before moving to the Luxor hotel. The ledger gives a record of treatments to Miss Smith from September 22 to September 27.

Dr. Robinson recalled the case and made the following statement:

"About September 22 the landlady of the Bungalow hotel summoned me to attend a young woman who, she said, was suffering terrible pains. I went directly to the hotel. The landlady informed me that she would pay all expenses. I found the young woman in bed. I gave her something to reduce the pain.

"Up to September 27 I attended her."

The fact that no relatives called to make funeral arrangements began to arouse suspicion. Finally requests were made from unknown people to have the body shipped to Denver for burial. But a sister of the dead woman was iocated in a little town in Wisconsin, and upon her advice the body is being held until the arrival of two brothers of the dead girl.

Miss Taylor had had a young woman associate in her company at odd periods, who is also said to have been seen in the company of Reagan when the latter first met Miss Taylor. Yesterday no one could recall her name, and, in fact, none of those who had been acquainted could tell any more about her than that she was pretty and exceedingly bright. Leaving the Bungalow hotel one week before her death. Miss Taylor went to the Luxor hotel. According to the landlady and clerks, she was then strong enough to walk, but was noticeably ill. Within two days her condition became so critical that it was necessary to immediately call a surgeon. Dr. Mayo advised that she be sent to Holy Cross hospital and been married and, having had trouble with her husband, came west to evade the rebuke of his relatives and members of her own family, who had been unkind to her. She had been in unkind to her. She had been in unkind to her. She had been in unkind to her. She had been in unkind to her. She had been in unkind to her. She had been in unkind to her.
